CHANGE OF COMPANY NAME AND TYPE

OSLO, NORWAY – Corona Space Surveillance Centre ANS is now Corona Space A/S as of February 19, 2007. The company is also changed from a Liable Company to a Limited Liability Company.

After more than one year of operation, investors at Corona Space Surveillance Centre (CSSC) have decided to change the company name to Corona Space. The aim is to shorten the name and keep it tuned with company's expanding activities. The company will still be focused on providing space surveillance related consultancy and services. Company is now registered under the new registration number NO-990 899 282 at The Brønnøysund Register Centre (a government body under the Norwegian Ministry of Trade and Industry).

Corona Space A/S strives to meet security and safety demands in the space environment by providing consultancy and services to space and defense community.
